Report of Superintendent of Schools.

Mr. Chairman and Members of the School Board of Newington:

I have the pleasure to submit my first annual report of the condition of the schools of Newington.

Since assuming the office of superintendent of this district, I have devoted, as nearly as possible about two twenty-seconds of my time to the schools of Newington. I have attended two conferences of superintendents of the State, one at Keene last August and one at Concord in October. I have held one general teacher's meeting with all the teachers of the district and one special meeting with the teachers of Newington and Greenland. I have not been able to hold as many meetings with the teachers as I would have liked, due to the fact that the work has been so broken up on account of several sieges of the influenza epidemic. I have had many private conferences with the teachers, when I have given assistance, suggestions and directions regarding school management and methods of instruction.

You are very fortunate in having an excellent corps of teachers and they are both working faithfully and getting good results. They have taken kindly any criticisms or suggestions I have offered and there is a fine spirit of co-operation among them. The work in both schools has been much broken up, due to the epidemic, but especially that of the Junior High, as Miss Seaver was not able to return in the fall, so the pupils were without any schooling for six weeks. We finally got Miss Aldrich from the State College, who substituted for two weeks until Miss Seaver was able to return, and who did very well under the circumstances, but such a makeshift can never fill the place of the regular teacher. We lost so many weeks in this school that it seems very doubtful to me, whether we can possibly make it all up and therefore do the required work; at least, without keeping later than usual in spring term. I am sure that Miss Seaver is endeavoring to the best of her ability to cover all the necessary work, but it will not pay to do the work so hurriedly as not to do it thoroly.

During the months of December and January, we have been giving standard tests to all pupils in the districts, in the fundamental subjects, reading, writing, spelling, composition and arithmetic, beginning with the fourth grade pupils. These tests and the method of administering and scoring of them has been practically the same or similar to tests which have been given in previous years and which I have found your former superintendent explained somewhat in detail, in his report of two years ago, so I will not use any space at this time to describe the same. I have not been able to get the records in full and tabulate the results of these tests as yet; besides, I have not been able to find the records of such tests for the last few years, so have no former results to compare them with. However, the results of these tests will be preserved and I plan to conduct similar tests next spring term, and we shall thus gradually "hang up" tentative standards, which we shall expect our pupils and teachers to attain to or excell.

I believe the new program for our Junior High School which the Board adopted last fall, and which received the approval of the State Superintendent, is working out as well as possible under the adverse conditions which we have to meet in following the same. Really, to accomplish all that this program calls for, it needs one teacher's time entirely for just the work of the seventh and eighth grades, whereas Miss Seaver also has two other grades, the fifth and sixth. We are able to carry out this program only by combining the fifth and sixth grades and the seventh and eighth grades in several subjects, which was permitted by the State Superintendent for this year only. This condition is far from ideal, and in a letter in early fall, to me the State Superintendent wrote that I must make it very plain to the School Board that he would not be able to approve the same conditions for another year. What we need, to overcome this difficulty, is another room and another teacher. Then we should take the fourth grade from Miss Frink's room, giving the fourth, fifth and sixth grades to the additional teacher, thus permitting Miss Seaver to give all her time to the seventh and eighth grades in the Junior High School work. With such an organization we could much more thoroly prepare our pupils for high school work and really place them on an equal basis for high school work with the pupils of Portsmouth. Besides, possibly we could add the ninth grade, thus saving the tuition now paid for first-year pupils in Portsmouth High School and also make it much easier and better for all parents by holding our pupils for one year longer in our own schools.

This plan of organization would be almost ideal for a small town like Newington. Miss Frink would be able to do much more efficient work, with only the first three grades instead of four, which is too many grades for one teacher with thirty-five to forty pupils. Most educators believe that twenty to thirty pupils, in as many as three different grades, is all that one teacher can possibly handle and give to them the necessary individual instruction.

The difficult problem to be met in this plan of organization is: where or in what way shall we provide this third room for the third teacher? This problem I am unable to solve, as our present rooms on the lower floor of the Town Hall are already congested, especially the Primary room. The only suggestion that I can make to the Board, is the need of a new building, that shall be modern in every respect and that shall conform to the latest requirements for school purposes. The present building is ill adapted for school purposes anyway, as to arrangement of rooms and we have cross lights in both rooms and a window directly in front of the pupils in the Primary room, which is very bad. The lighting is also insufficient in this room.

The heat in both rooms is from box stoves with the result that the pupils directly in front are always too hot, while those in the rear are too cold. These stoves should at least be jacketed, so as to heat the rooms more uniformly and furnish ventilation, which is now very poor.

The outhouses are kept fairly clean, but they are exposed to the weather and not connected with the building by a covered walk, with latticed walls to furnish protection from the weather, to the pupils, and proper ventilation as they should be. The children should not be compelled to go out of doors to reach this building in cold or stormy weather, as it often proves harmful to their health.

I have mentioned some of the bad physical conditions of your building, but I do not intend to infer that they are all bad; on the other hand, there are many excellent things to be noticed about the building, such as hard wood floors, slate blackboards, adjustable seats, etc., most of which, doubtless could be utilized in a new building. Possibly, a third room could be provided by a small addition to the present building, tho this seems doubtful to me, because of the need of the entire remodeling of the present structure, the cost of which would go a considerable ways toward a new, properly arranged school building.

I have collected some school statistics for 1917-1918 as a part of this report, from a study of which, you will see your per cent. of attendance for last year decreased by 12.7 per cent. and the number of cases of tardiness increased from 35 to 88 or more than doubled over the preceding year. Doubtless this falling down in attendance was due, in part at least, to the exceedingly severe winter we experienced last year, tho personally, I feel that it might have been helped to some extent, to say the least, by a good truant officer, who would have investigated any prolonged absence of any pupil, or parents who might may have been delinquent in sending their children to school. This fall and winter we have had a few troublesome cases that have really needed the attention of a truant officer, and I recommend that the School Board appoint such an officer, as is required by law. Of course our attendance this year has been lowered somewhat, due to the prevailing influenza epidemic. However, to date, it has been considerably better than the average for last year. The attendance problem is one of our big problems and one of great injury to the best work of the schools. We appeal to the parents, for their co-operation, to the effect that we may have better attendance and much less tardiness in the future.

In conclusion, I wish to express my gratitude to the teachers for their loyalty and co-operation in trying to make our schools what they ought to be, and to you, the Members of the School Board, for your support and advice.

Respectfully submitted,

C. H. WALKER.

TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

To the Citizens of Newington :

Your Library Trustees have the pleasure of submitting their twenty-seventh annual report for the year ended December 31, 1918.

We wish to express our appreciation to the voters of the town, for extra appropriation given us, so that we were able to add to our library furnishings and equipment, i. e.: our new magazine rack and typewriter. It has also permitted us to meet emergencies and to have money in our treasury at the beginning of each year.

War-time conditions were noticeable in library work as well as in other walks of life. Commendable interest was manifested for books along broader lines of reading. Several volumes relating to the World War have been added from the Webster fund. We received from Mrs. Langdon her annual gift of books ; these were carefully selected and have been well circulated. To her we extend our thanks, inasmuch as she makes it possible for us to have some of the newest and best books every year.

The nature study table continues to be a source of interest and instruction to young and old.

To all who have helped us with gifts of books, magazines, book lists and nature specimens, we extend our thanks.

On account of our changing population our card list was revised. By this revision new numbers were assigned to the permanent residents in alphabetical order, and a special list arranged for our transient people.

In November Miss Beane was granted a leave of absence. Pauline Knox was chosen to become her successor. Miss Knox is interested in the work and we think will prove efficient, with the co-operation of your trustees and the helpful support of the people.

Let us hope that we enter upon a pleasant and prosperous year.
